Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 16-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Domries (5,628,373).

Domries discloses a disc gang assembly including a mainframe, a frame, a plurality of ground engaging rotary discs which are configured to rotate about an axis that extends at a gang angle relative to a perpendicular to said draft direction through a range of at least 3 degrees as shown in figures 1 & 2. Domries further discloses using a slot and pin (168) for permitting angle adjustment.

Claims 16-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Van Mill (5,590,721).

Van Mill discloses a disc gang assembly including a mainframe, a frame, a plurality of ground engaging rotary discs (108,109) which are configured to rotate about an axis that extends at a gang angle relative to a perpendicular to said draft direction through a range of at least 3 degrees as shown in figures 1 & 2. Van Mill further discloses using a slot (119 & 121) and pin for permitting angle adjustment (figure 2). Van Mill further discloses using a plurality of support arms pivotable to raise and lower the disc support beam relative to the main beam to adjust the cutting depth of the discs.
